Ten Things That Put Judy Moody in a Good Mood

1. When her mood ring turns purple.
2. Playing fake-hand-in-the-toilet jokes on Stink.
3. Doctoring broken dolls.
4. Getting her picture (not elbow) in the newspaper.
5. Having her initials on the Wall of Gum.
6. Doing yoga (not yoghurt) with Mouse.
7. Saving the world, one Band-Aid at a time.
8. Going on a treasure hunt.
9. Eating Screamin' Mimi's ice cream.
10. Being a member of the My-Name-Is-a-Poem Club.

The Game of Judy

Judy Moody gets to play the Game of Life with her maths tutor, Chloe. If you don't own the board game, don't worry – just create your own game!

What you'll need:

- a large piece of plain paper
- crayons or felt-tip pens
- one die
- game pieces (small pieces of coloured paper, pebbles or sweets – whatever is handy will work.)

Draw a snaking line from one end of the paper to the other, or in any shape you wish. Along the line, draw circles about the size of a ten pence piece every four or five centimetres. Mark one circle with the word START and one with the word FINISH.

Colour in the circles or decorate the board game in whatever way you wish.

Now you're ready to play A Day in the Life of Judy Moody! The rules are:

- ④ If you roll a 1, you are Stuck Forever in Third Grade and do not advance.
- ④ If you roll a 2, you've been Stinked! Stink has played a trick on you and you have to miss a turn.
- ④ If you roll a 3, you get a "Good Job" sticker from Mr Todd (of Class 3T) and get to move on 3 spaces.

- ☉ If you roll a 4, you catch someone littering and get to move the player of your choice back 2 spaces.
- ☉ If you roll a 5, you become famous and get to take another turn.
- ☉ If you roll a 6, you get a maths tutor. Multiply the number on the die by 2 and advance 12 spaces!

There's no end to the possibilities. Make up your own games and your own rules, using one rule for each number on the die. You could even create A Day in the Life of You!

Ha! Fooled You!

April Fool's Day is Judy's birthday, but she likes to play jokes on Stink ANY time of year. Try these funny jokes on your family and friends!

The Case of The Runaway Chocolate Bar

Tie a long piece of clear fishing-line around your brother's or sister's favourite chocolate bar. Leave the chocolate bar in an obvious place where they'll be sure to find it. Holding the other end of the fishing-line, hide behind a chair or sofa and wait. As your brother or sister reaches for the chocolate bar, tug on your end of the fishing-line and pull the chocolate away!

Musical Cereal Boxes

Open all the boxes of cereal in the cupboard. Switch the inner bags around, putting the cereal from one box into a different box. When your family reaches for Lucky Charms, they may get Raisin Bran!

April Fool!

Zap!

Gotcha!

Double Jinx!

Hey! There's a fly on my toothbrush!
Take the cap off the tube of toothpaste in the bathroom and push a small raisin into the neck of the tube. Then wait for your brother or sister to brush their teeth and listen for the scream! When they squeeze out the raisin, they'll think a creepy-crawly got into the toothpaste!

International Fools

In Portugal kids toss a handful of flour at their friends on April Fool's Day!

In Scotland an April fool is called an April gowk (cuckoo bird)!

In England if a trick is played on you, you're a "noodle"!

Have
you met Stink?

Meet Stink, Judy Moody's little "bother", er, brother. Very little brother...

Stink was short. Short, shorter, shortest.
Stink was an inchworm. Short as a ... stinkbug!

Stink was the shortest one in the Moody family (except for Mouse, the cat). The shortest second-grader in Class 2D. Probably the shortest human being in the whole world, including Alaska and Hawaii. Stink was one whole head shorter than his sister, Judy Moody. Every morning he made Judy measure him. And every morning it was the same.

One hundred and twelve centimetres tall.

Shrimpsville.
